FORMULA car insurance ensures you can drive with peace of mind in your daily routine and in your free time. And as your insurance needs are as individual as you are, you can select the precise protection that you require.

Good all-round protection

Traffic accidents can happen no matter how carefully you drive. FORMULA car insurance covers damage to your vehicle, as well as fully covering you as a driver, owner and passenger. You decide yourself how much insurance you need.

Motor vehicle third party liability insurance

Third-party liability insurance is compulsory. It ensures you against damage or costs that you cause with your vehicle.

Partial accidental damage insurance

You can take our accidental damage insurance in addition to third-party liability insurance. You are responsible for damage to your vehicle. Partial accidental damage insurance covers damage due to fire, theft, glass breakage, martens and vandals, as well as damage due to natural hazards such as avalanches, snow pressure, storms, hail, inundations, landslides, rockfalls and flooding. Would you like additional protection while on holiday? Then extend your cover with partial accidental damage Plus. That way, you are insured against collision damage for up to 24 consecutive days per year.

Comprehensive accidental damage insurance

Comprehensive accidental damage insurance offers you all-round protection. In addition to the benefits provided by partial accidental damage insurance, it also covers collision damage to your own vehicle, for example in the case of crashes or impact.

Worthwhile supplementary insurance

On request, you can take out additional insurance protection. Supplementary insurance for stationary damage and headlights makes sense in particular for new cars. It is also worthwhile giving some consideration to passenger insurance and insurance for personal items. No-claims bonus protection guarantees that the first claim per year will not increase your premium level.
